

How to play

Farm Dominoes Mommy & Baby · 2–4 children · ages 4+

print at 100%

The tiles

Each tile has two halves: a mommy animal on the left (green) and a baby animal on the right (orange). Seven families are included: cow & calf, pig & piglet, sheep & lamb, hen & chick, horse & foal, goat & kid, duck & duckling.

The rule

Every baby wants its mommy! Place tiles so that each baby lies right next to its own mommy: next to a baby on the right, only a tile with the matching mommy fits. Next to a mommy on the left, only a tile with her baby fits.

Playing

Shuffle the tiles face down. Each child takes 5 tiles (with two players: 7); the rest is the farm pile. Lay one tile face up in the middle. Take turns adding a matching tile to either end. If you can't, take a tile from the pile. The first player with no tiles left wins.

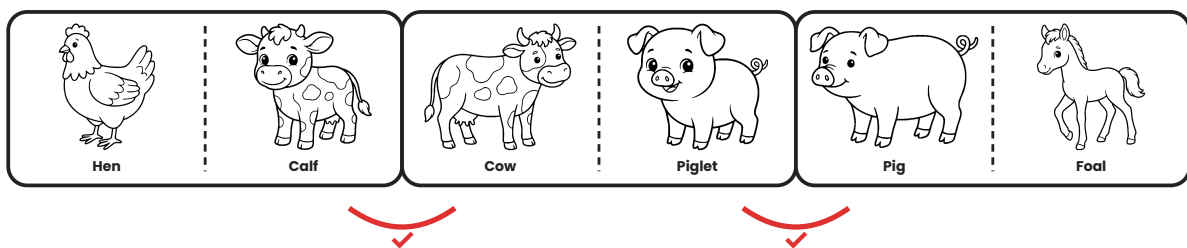

For the youngest

Lay all tiles face up and build a long animal snake together, saying the names: "The calf belongs to the cow!" Can you lay all 28 tiles in one big circle? (It really works!)

Good to know

A foal stands up about an hour after it is born. Ducklings follow their mother as soon as they are dry.
